News Release

Date: October 1, 2004
Contact: Dianna Ellis, Refuge Manager 208-267-3888

Kootenai National Wildlife Refuge is pleased to announce a series of free October programs sponsored by the Friends of Kootenai National Wildlife Refuge entitled “Fall Family Fun Nights”. The weekly programs will be held at the Environmental Education Center (Barn) adjacent to the Refuge Headquarters on the dates and times listed for each program.

Everyone is welcome and the programs may be enjoyed by folks of all ages.

Programs start with “The Great Northern Idaho Grizzly Bear” on Friday October 8 at 7 p.m., presented by Brian Johnson, Idaho Fish & Game.

“Firewise” on Saturday October 16 at 1 p.m., presented by Tina Danforth, Idaho Department of Lands.

The third program will be “Live Owls” Saturday October 23 at 7 p.m., presented by Beth Paragamian, Idaho Fish and Game.

The final program in October will be “Garden Song” Friday October 29 at 7 p.m., presented by Jerry Pavia, local outdoor photographer and author.
